CATCHINGS DROWNED AT ATLANTIC BEACH

Body of Well-Known Engineer
Will Be Brought to Atlanta for Interment.

Frederick P. Catchings, aged 29 years, son of the late Dr. Benjamin H. Catchings, of Atlanta, and one of the best known electrical engineers in the south, was drowned in the surf at Atlantic Beach late Sunday night according to a telegram received Monday morning by his mother, Mrs. Mattie Catchings, of 307 Capitol Avenue.

No details of the fatality have been received. The telegram simply stated that Mr. Catchings was lost when a boat in which he and a party of friends were fishing capsized.

Mrs. Catchings had held many positions of trust with different power companies of the south. She was a number of years chief electrical engineer of the Georgia Power company, with headquarters in Atlanta. She was also chief electrical engineer of the Alabama Power company, with headquarters in Birmingham, going to that city from Atlanta about a year ago. She was recently admitted to full membership in the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, an honor much valued by her. The reason for the membership is strictly limited to those who have achieved distinction in their work.

Mrs. Catchings was educated at Emory College and Vanderbilt University, and was a member of the Delta Nu Fraternity. She was married to Dr. Benjamin H. Catchings, a leading man in his profession. A young, genial nature and cheerful toward all, Mr. Catchings had endeared himself to his friends and family. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Mattie Catchings, and his sister, Mrs. Alice Catchings, of Atlanta.

His body will be brought to Atlanta and interred in the cemetery of the same city. The funeral will be held on Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Catchings, 307 Capitol Avenue. The interment will be at the cemetery of the same city.

The Brisk, Fine Shopping Days of Autumn Have Arrived!

And Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.'s Ready-to-Wear Section Presents in a Fine Degree of Completeness

The New Season's Authentic and Authoritative Fashions

"Be not the first by whom the new are tried Nor yet the last to lay the old aside."

Women are concerned principally now by the latter admonition---the passing of the autumnal equinox precluded the possibility of one being the first to try the new.

It is time now for the new styles!

Soon we will be getting late---and no one wants to be the last to lay the old aside.

The Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co. display of fall fashions has been timed to this moment of certainty---of certainty as to what is genuine and authentic in style.

And now it speaks with that authority.

No, it does not speak but exhibits with that authority.

This advertisement can never disclose the wealth and beauty and surpassing variety of the Ready-to-Wear Section. It can but throw out a few hints and leave it to woman's interest in the fall fashions to see what has been done in preparation for this announcement.

There is a completeness and thoroughness about things here this season that has never been attained before---the progress we have made over last year seems greater than from any other one season to another.

Is it the diversity of the styles that Paris has given us, is it extra effort on our part?

It is both. Paris has given us varied styles, we have worked with determination that must put this Ready-to-wear Section first in the minds and hearts of Atlanta women.

What is the style?

Here Are Hundreds of Suits of Different Styles

And the happy result is a season where the strict following of an arbitrary law gives place to the abstract---becomingness, that is the style, as you shall find here, and that is why we stress the bigness of this display.

Becoming Suits for hundreds and hundreds of women

If there is one style that is notable above others it is that the cutaway coat is the motif of the fashions. It seems to run through the scheme of things. It is varied---very, very varied.

There are cutaway coats that button close about the neck, others have the wide lapels and the general appearance of a man's evening coat, others are fashioned to show a tapestry or brocaded vest over the bust, others show the vest at the waist; and then there are others---and very smart---that are fashioned with a sash to hold the coat to a blouse.

All of which means that women may have a stylish suit that best becomes them!

Long shoulders are noticeable, sleeves hardly begin to be sleeves until they are brought below the shoulders. The butterfly or kimono effect is the result. In many of the "dressy" suits this butterfly effect is carried out with a seamless back and a big butterfly bow at the back waist. The word "fancy" fits in with the new styles, as the cutaway coats, the draped skirts, the trimmings (fur bands, skunk, fitch, broad-tail chinchilla and ermine, tapestry and velvet vests, velvet buttons, collars and cuffs) and the fabrics---velours, matelasse, diagonals, wool failles, wool crepes, duvetyn and peau de peche---all these tend to make suits this season fancy and the colors, the rich mahogany shades, the greens---bottle and bronze---the prune shades, tete de negre.

These points show in

---a broadtail suit with skunk collar and cuffs.

---a taupe bayadere cloth suit with velvet collar and wide revers, a tunic of cloth over velvet.

---a black duvetyn blouse model with sash, Oriental embroidered vest and peg top skirt.

---and, to prove the scope of styles this year, in a ruby chiffon cloth suit, with a long, straight Balkan coat, edged and belted with velvet and having a collar of sable squirrel.

---a combination suit has a coat of tete de negre matelasse and a draped skirt of peau de peche in the same shade. The coat has a collar of gold and prune tapestry.

But it seems hardly fair to mention a mere half dozen suits out of all these that are worthy and distinctive.

See them with your own eyes and judge how well we have solved the suit problem for the women of Atlanta this Fall.

The New Dresses Are Charming Affairs

Exquisite Evening Dresses, Glorious Afternoon Costumes and Smart Street Dresses.

Here is Paris!

Fact is we doubt if one could shop in Paris with such satisfaction as one may right here. The fashions that the wizards scattered over Paris have evolved are gathered here within arms' reach---you may see and study them all, side by side---reproductions, yes, and therefore sans the prices of the originals.

To tell you that we have gathered great and numbers of more beautiful dresses this season than ever before is but to tell what will probably be the first expression of those who know us best.

The styles are not simple, the richness of fabrics, of colors and the masses of laces and nets rob the evening and afternoon dresses of simplicity and create a glory that is new.

And therefore one must be circumspect this season. Good taste is never gaudy---and in the hands of the lesser artists the richness that is the mark of fashion becomes a mass of colors---bizarre and outré. Not so here.

One dress after another of surprising beauty.

A salmon pink Canton Crepe has a six inch wide girdle of blue chenille, embroidered in green and yellow and terra cotta flowers---oriental in the extreme---the girdle ends in a long navy streamer. A bold combination of colors and a beautiful one. The bodice is covered with sand colored chantilly lace.

A bronze crepe dress has a bodice of shadow lace, wide black moire girdle, a red corsage rose, the skirt drapes most gracefully.

A dainty affair, a chiffon dress of morning light blue underbodice, with lavender girdle and little French flowers on bodice. The skirt shows an over-drop of shadow lace.

Dresses for street wear take in more richness. The materials---woolen crepes, woolen matelasses, diagonals, charmeuse, the new corded silks, the silk brocades and the silk matelasses show the tendency, as do the always draped skirts, the use of sashes, the frillings at the sleeves and necks, the "vest effects" in oriental colors. There is much of interest here right now.

AMERICAN SCHOOL SEIZED BY GREEKS

Seizure in Line With Plan of Greeks to Terrorize People of Albania — Housekeeper of School Beaten.

Vienna, Austria, September 22.—The Greek authorities at Koritsa, in Albania today seized the American mission school here, where instruction is given to nearly 100 Albanian girls. The information reached here in a telegram from Athens, the principal seat of Albania on the Adriatic sea.

The Greeks also have arrested many Albanians who recently returned to Albania from America and other foreign countries, where they had been promised to join in the agitation for the incorporation of the district in Greece.

The British consul at Monastir has entered a vigorous protest with the Greek government on behalf of the Americans.

The whole affair forms part of the Greek territorialization of the Balkan peninsula with the object of compelling them to accept the inclusion of the whole of Albania in the kingdom of Greece.

Last week Greek officials at Koritsa endeavored to take forcible possession of the American mission school building, but the housekeeper, who carried the keys, refused to open the doors.

The mission is in charge of Phineas B. Kennedy, a native of New Jersey. B. Kennedy conducted the school in New York, and was a graduate of the University of the South.

Days of Civil War Recalled By Peachtree Creek Discovery

Here is a story which makes the ghosts of other days walk and arouse the memories of the stirring scenes of Sherman's fight around Atlanta.

While cleaning up Peachtree creek to protect the new disposal plant against an overflow, Captain R. M. Thomas, chief of the city corps of sanitation, discovered the remains of a Confederate line of battle.

Thomas' corps of 10,000 crossed the creek, July 20, 1864, and charged the Confederate lines on the heights on the other side.

When Sherman marched down through Georgia from Tennessee he had a force of 150,000 men, which were in three divisions. The divisions under S. O. Ripley and John Schofield were in the front, while the corps under Thomas advanced and encountered the Confederate line at Peachtree creek.

The remains of the Confederate line were found in the creek bed, and were in the shape of a line of battle.

SUGGESTS MEMORIAL FOR "UNCLE DUDLEY"

Mark E. Johnson Would Commemorate Col. Jehu G. Postell's Memory.

A memorial for "Uncle Dudley," founder of the several children's poetry clubs in the south, and for many years a leading writer on subjects pertaining to the raising of chickens, is being suggested by the editor of The Atlanta Journal by Mark E. Johnson.

The latter days of the life of Colonel Jehu G. Postell, whose real name was almost lost through the use of the pen name, were devoted to collecting an interest in the raising of poultry among children, and Mr. Johnson aptly suggests that the memorial be in the form of an "Uncle Dudley" trophy at some annual poultry show in the south.

Mr. Johnson suggested that the fund for the memorial be raised by the popular subscription, which he starts.

His letter follows in full:

Atlanta, Ga., September 19, 1913—Editor The Journal: In recognition of his untiring energy and his love for the south, I desire to make a suggestion for the Children's Poultry Club in reference to the memorial to be placed in the south. I think we should found an "Uncle Dudley" trophy to be awarded at some poultry show in the south each year. The trophy should be awarded to the child or children under 14 years of age, I believe if this suggestion is given the children will be interested in the various poultry journals and periodicals that a sufficient amount can be raised to interest in the trophy. The trophy should be awarded at the Southern International show in December.

"I will be glad to have the list with my name and address, and I will be glad to have the list with my name and address, and I will be glad to have the list with my name and address."

BRYANT IS MENTIONED TO SUCCEED MERRITT

New Head for Tuberculosis Sanatorium Will Be Named This Week.

Reports around the city hall yesterday were that Dr. W. C. Bryant, state health inspector, is likely to become superintendent of the Hill sanatorium to succeed Dr. C. W. Merritt, resigned. Council's hospital committee will meet this week to appoint a new head to the tuberculosis sanatorium. The position pays $1,000 per annum, but it is expected that council will ask the finance committee to provide at least $2,000 for the superintendent's salary in the January budget.

There are several other likely candidates in the field for the place. Dr. J. E. Kennedy, city health officer, and Dr. Claude Smith, city bacteriologist, will make a report to the committee, and will recommend one of the candidates.

Friends Urge Hall.
Friends of Dr. G. G. Hall, city physician, have been urging him to seek the appointment, but it is said that he does not take kindly to the message.

ECZEMA ON FACE ITCHED SO SHE COULD NOT SLEEP

Suffering Almost Intolerable and Did Not Go Out Without a Veil. First Use of Resinol Brought Relief.

Chicago, Ill., June 20, 1913.—I had a severe case of eczema on my face. It looked like little red pimples and got so bad that I did not go out without wearing a veil. I could scarcely sleep at night, the itching and burning were almost intolerable. I had been suffering from this for several weeks, and had tried several salves but with practically no results. I did not know what I should try next. After one application of Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment I was able to have a good night's sleep. After the second free trial, write to Dept. 13-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.—(Ad.)

Growing Towns

If it's a town with the push and the pride to want to get ahead, the first thing to do is make it a good place to live in.

Is it the kind of place the young fellows will stick to and be proud of and want to rear their families in?

Is it the kind of place visitors will really enjoy visiting? Is it the sort of town you men and women think really worth while?

If it is lacking in CORRECT SANITARY CONDITIONS, it will never get over into the growing column.

Just as well get that town right off.

Sanitary living is the right of the people. It is the right inheritance of the little child. It is the safeguard of the population.

If there's a lurking-place for disease in your home, your family is in danger.

Let us talk with you about what your town needs. It's our business to better and boost the town that is ailing.

We've cured and cheered more than 300. We'd like to tell you who they are and what we did for them.

Atlanta Chamber Activities

"BOOST CITY." MOTTO OF DEPARTMENTS

In order that a large delegation of Atlantans may be induced to attend the National Conservation exposition at Knoxville, on October 7, Atlanta, Ga., the following committee has been appointed by the chamber of commerce to work up interest in the day: Colonel John S. Cohen, Clark Howell and H. M. Schenck.

Special trains will be run on this date, direct to the exposition grounds, and it is expected that hundreds of Atlantans will make the trip to the exposition.

One of the features of the trip will be the presence of the Georgia noted fish and game commission, which will head the delegation of anglers who are planning to attend in a body.

Interest in Milk Meeting.
Interest continues to grow in the milk supply meeting which will be held in Tenth hall, the evening of October 7. This will be under the auspices of the state department of agriculture, with the assistance of the salary, and the small prospects of an early increase. Dr. Hall is regarded as being just the man for the position by reason of his ability as a physician and his knowledge of the needs of the hospital.

Other physicians who have been mentioned as being likely to succeed Dr. Merritt are Dr. Martin C. Pruitt and Dr. Louis Hollander, both of Atlanta.

The name of Dr. Puntz, who lives away from Atlanta, has also been mentioned.

Judge John S. Candler, chairman of the committee declared Monday night that the committee had not decided upon the successor of Dr. Merritt.

We appointed Drs. Kennedy and Smith a committee to cast about and select the most capable man for the place. Judge Candler said "As yet the committee has made no report. There will be a meeting some time this week for the purpose of filling the Merritt vacancy."

Judge Candler Goes to New York.
Judge Candler said that he did not know that Dr. Bryant was a candidate for the place. He said he had heard that the committee was considering him, but he had not heard mentioned in connection with the vacancy was that of City Physician Hall. Judge Candler will leave for New York on Wednesday morning, and will make the selection without his aid.

Mayor Woodward said Monday that he had not heard of any names in connection with Dr. Merritt's case.

HOWARD HAS A PLAN FOR MONEY REFORM

Washington, September 22.—Congressman William Schley Howard today addressed the house on the postal savings bank system. He said that the independence of the government from the national banks to the people.

Mr. Howard declares that the greatest problem confronting the framers of the postal savings bank system, which passed the house recently, is the means of distributing the bonded funds of the government to the people.

The congressman asserted that the best means of distributing the bonded funds of the government to the people would be to remove the restrictions and limitations that now encumber the postal savings bank system. He said if the proper facilities were offered by the government, these banks would grow rapidly and serve a very useful purpose, by accumulating billions in savings of the people.

"If my ideas are adopted," said Howard, "I believe firmly that the government will be benefited."

No More Typhoid in the Army

Typhoid fever has been banished from the United States army. We need soldiers as never before, and our American people can feel sure that as far as this disease is concerned the full strength of each company and regiment will be on the firing line.

In previous wars, from ten to forty per cent of the opposing forces have been in the hospitals, incapacitated by this deadly disease.

through various diseases. During Spanish-American war, out of 10 soldiers in camp at Jacksonville, Fla. there were 2,833 cases of typhoid. This division had been in the malarious zone for 18 months. The strength would have been weakened about one-third, not only by the loss of these patients, but also by the loss of the men necessary to care for and transport them. Any means which would diminish any of the diseases from which soldiers suffer during the past will definitely increase the strength and efficiency of the army. It will also greatly increase the chances of our volunteer soldiers turning safe from war, as disease is

Announcement of the elimination of typhoid from our army is an event of keen interest. In a recent issue of The Journal of the American Medical Association, Major Frederick P. Russ, of the medical corps, summarizes the results secured by the army in 1902, with an enlisted strength of 130,778 men and officers, there were 282 cases. In March, 1909, vaccination of our regular army 555 cases of typhoid. In 1909, out of $4.07 men there were 282 cases. In March, 1909, vaccination began, but the number vaccinated was not so great as the number in the ratio in 1910 over 16,000 were vaccinated, and at once the numof typhoid cases began to diminish. In 1911 there were only 70 cases; in 1912 only 37. The year 1913 was made compulsory for typhoid inoculation in the military service and recruits. In 1912, the first year which the entire army was immunized, there were only 37 cases, the last occurring in December. At that date, now nine months ago, there has not been a single case of typhoid in the army.

Dr. Howell also reports that during the past four years over 200 persons have been vaccinated without a single death or injurious result. Such an experience on so large a scale certainly justifies the conclusion that the general use of vaccination against typhoid fever will soon become a necessity.

One is the unusually accurate supply a movement of the kind which has been declining of the kind which have been declining from time to time for several years. Mining Stocks.

London Stock Market.
London, September 22.—Money was in good demand, and discount rates were steady today.

The nearness of the settlement restricted business on the stock exchange, but the markets opened cheerful, with a hardening tendency under the lead of home railroads, which were repurchased on reports of the approaching troubles. Good interest ment support improved gilt-edged securities and Paris bought rubber shares, but copper stocks eased off in sympathy with the metal.

American securities opened steady. Light trading advanced the list from $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ above parity during the forenoon. Later the market moved irregularly and sluggishly, and closed dull.

Consols for money 75 15-16; consols 64 account 74.

Bullion very strong at 28 11-16d per ounce.
